Echo Lake Community Corp.

50th Anniversary Edition

GREETINGS FROM ECHO LAKE COMMUNITY CORPORATION

Welcome to Echo Lake -- a good place to live, from its beginning, on June 14, 1936, through this, our 50th Anniversary year.

The essence of Echo Lake is today, as always, our community of neighbors ... neighbors who work together to solve problems, improve our community, and to just plain have fun.

After 50 years, much in Echo Lake has changed, and yet its original strong points remain essentially the same: We are small enough to give each individual or family a voice in community decisions, yet we're big enough to have an impact on our area when we band together.

Echo Lake thrives on the volunteer work of its residents for fundraising events, community projects and service work, and social events. All of us, working together, help to improve our community and make it more pleasant and attractive. We can justifiably take pride in our achievements.

As we look back at our 50 years of community life, we can see concrete evidence of the changes we have wrought: We have built and improved our community park, a beach, pier and raft. We are currently undertaking an ambitious remodeling project of our community center. We have held many successful social events. Our efforts have brought about increased cooperation with the township and county agencies for road, sanitation and drainage improvements.

All of our accomplishments have been achieved through the hard work of volunteers....from the various people who have served on the Board of Directors, to those residents who have donated their time and efforts on individual projects.

In 50 years, we have come a long way. Yet much remains to be done. Our lake is in desperate need of revitalization. The remodeling of the community center has just begun. Our beach and park are in line for continued improvements, as are the community pathways.

Indeed, the challenge of our future awaits us. Yet, with our proud history of community involvement, we accept that challenge with well-founded optimism. Through our continuing efforts, Echo Lake's next fifty years will surely be as productive and rewarding as the first fifty have been.

ECHOS OF OUR ORIGIN

The following history of Echo Lake was written some years back by Lillian Regnier, a 50-year resident of Echo Lake. Lillian, who has been called our "community historian", wrote the history from memory. She and her family have been actively involved in community affairs over the years. She and her "hubby" served a total of sixteen years on the Board of Directors. Her daughter and son-in-law have also served on the Board, and her grandson, Ed Goudie, is a past President of Echo Lake. Though she has seen and participated in fifty years of changes in our community, she still feels that the things that originally attracted her to the area are important qualities of life today at Echo Lake: beauty, peace and quiet.

"I think a community without a sense of the past is like a community with amnesia." -- Ringman

On June 14, 1936, Arthur T. McIntosh held a sale of part of the A. Briggs farm. On the farm was a small lake called Briggs Lake. In just a few months, most of the lots were sold and home building began.

In August of 1936, Mr. LaLande of the realty company called a meeting of the property owners for the purpose of forming a community organization. The organization, Briggs Lake Community Corporation, was to represent the property owners and administer the dedicated properties; a lake, park, a small lot for a clubhouse, a deep well and all of the roads. The first officers were elected for one year.

Forty-one homes were under construction by February of 1937. Electricity was installed and fire protection arranged with the Lake Zurich Volunteer Fire Department. One dollar dues were collected from civic-minded citizens for maintaining the community properties.

Fundraising activities, with the cooperation of civic and business groups in the Lake Zurich area, provided money for building a pavilion in the beach park. The pavilion and flagpole were dedicated in the Summer of 1941.

In 1942, the name of the lake was changed to Echo Lake and the organization became the Echo Lake Community Corporation.

During the war years, residents shared ration coupons so that refreshments could be served at activities. War bonds and stamps were the prizes.

Community women formed a social group which, in 1948, contributed a jukebox, card tables, kitchen equipment and the steel playground slide which still stands in our park. Weekend parties continuing into the '50's provided refreshments and entertainment for participants. Feature films and state-furnished educational films were highlights for the children.

Later, a youth group of over 20 members met in the pavilion and held activities with sponsor guidance.

(Adapted from an article first published as "Echoes from Echo Lake", in the Lake Zurich Press, November 8, 1956, written by Lillian Regnier.)

Since 1956, changes have continued. In 1961, the community held a gala celebration of the 25th year.

The early '70's brought the removal of the old pier, repairs to the raft, and installation of an aerator in the lake.

The old pavilion has been replaced with a large modern building. The mortgage was paid off in three years.

Lake and park improvements continue along many pathways at the present. The Echo Lake Community Corporation, with the leadership if its elected officers, provides resident members with a safe and beautiful park and lake. The Corporation also serves as a unified voice representing the membership to state and local governments.

With such a heritage, we members of the present community are enriched and our future will be assured only through our continued dedication.
